
New Playing Cards [preview]

Posted by starionturbo - 2008/04/14 23:20

Hello everyone, i came across this poker software and like it alot.

I'm designing a new Deck, (Playing cards), and also i'm making new flipsides.

A little preview of the playing cards here because its not finished.

I would really like to join the developement team, im both in graphics and programming (php+mysql alot, maby get rid of this joomla shitty, cause it has some security risks, and let me design a new one.);

Thanks. Lets poker...

Thx for your offer.

We are currently working on jumbo-index-cards which are also readable in 48x76 pixel.

May be need your help in php-mysql programming later for ranking pages on this site.

Well thanks.

At the moment, i'm building system that reads a log files from pokerTH and puts it into MySQL table. It splits the log a part, and adds score to players, displays their hands and everything that will come with the logs.

Then Im creating a program that reads mysql and displays us some statics about players, games that have been running last 7 days and etc.

Pretty neat...

Yes, the red PokerTH back is great
I'm using it

Thanks a lot

Put them wherever you like and point to the one you want from within the options dialogue.
