
Button with no effect

Posted by chunfy - 2008/05/02 08:38

Hello,

sometimes, during my turn if I press Raise, nothing happen and in the meanwhile the timebar ends, and put me in automatic Check.

I noticed that, during the period time of the timebar, I can press infinite times any button, putting it "on hold" and "free" with no effect.

Happened to me too any I always thought that this was due to a slow internet connection. Maybe its something else.

This problem happens fairly frequently on the internet game.

You click a button and the program will ignore the click and the timer bar will start counting down and you will either get a check or fold upon time-up.....as if the program never register your button click.

On top of that, sometimes your game will be terminated by the server. You will get a message that you have been disconnected from the server.

I am using broadband high speed internet and other internet traffic/activities seems normal. So, it might be a problem with the server.
