
Showdown stay longer

Hi! I think, it would be nice, when the showdown hands stay a few seconds longer, to check all the hands.

Hi

I was thinking about that too, now I'm always playing with the option to click start between hands (cause i want to understand why i lost ;-)) but may be a configurable pause between hands (from 0 to 5 seconds) could be sufficient.

thanks

or a mouse click anywhere or a space bar to continue to the next hand, if also configurable to a time pause, it would make the start button redundant .

How do you want to handle that in online games?
I think, a fixed or configurable time (admin) is the best.

agreed for online, game sometimes if we had the option to click to next hands maybe or more time, would be great although you can read in the log box the result

I think that the game admin should be able to pause an Internet game at any time after the completion of a hand. If, the game is password protected, then any of the players should be able to pause the game. This makes bathroom brakes a lot easier.
