
PokerTH 0.6.2 Internet game bug

Posted by WebWolf - 2008/05/22 19:50

When I try to connect to the Internet Game I get this message. I didn't get it in the past pokerTH versions.

The OS is WinXP Sp2. I've disabled my firewall and antivirus, still nothing. The settings are default (default URL in the field). I've tried almost everything I thought that would work. Any idea?

This happens if you have a Windows username with non-ascii characters. I've fixed this and uploaded new Windows release packages for 0.6.2. Sorry for the trouble.

I have another error and I'm posting this here in this therad casue I think the other one is resolved.

If I play an internet game sometimes I get this error:

An invalid network package was recieved.
Please make sure that all Players use the same Version of PokerTH.

After I click ok it closes the Lobby. How am I supposed to make sure that everyone uses PokerTH version 6.2?

My guess is that the player is using an older version of RokerTH and there is some kind of incompatibility.

Another error I just had was:

I think the reason is the same as above.

Are you sure you are running version 0.6.2? Please check the title of the main window.

Yes. I am running 0.6.2

I just retried and the same "network package" error happened.

I cannot reproduce this bug. The versions of other players are not relevant for this bug, it is a state error for your client. When exactly does which of the bugs occur? When you are idle in the lobby? When you are within a game in the lobby? When you are playing a game? Directly when joining a game? Please describe as thorough as possible.

Oh. Weired.

I am using the latest beta of the portable version from Portableapps.com. Ill install it to my PC and retry.

The errors happened right when I joined a game. When I was just in the lobby, it didnt happen.

I'll be gone over the weekend but Ill try if I can find out more.

Could you please test whether this error also occurs for you with the official release of PokerTH from this site? The portableapps release is not done by us, so we do not know which version they built or whether they used our binary release.

Looks like it was me and not PokerTH.

I used a prerelease and it must have been corrupt as the issue doesnt occur with either the installed version nor the final release.

Sorry for the buzz.
